Status of the course in the study program:

- The EU aid programmes

Assumptions and objectives of the course:

-Indication of the possibilities and conditions for support of various projects within the European Union aid programs. The primary aim of the course is to present a broader perspective of support within the European Union aid programs - what are the factors taken into account by the EU in providing financial incentives for the implementation of specific projects, what are the priorities of support, its constraints, and the path of intervention from the European Union budget. The subject introduces specific terminology and basic principles on State aid which accompany the implementation of projects involving EU funds.

Contents of the course (course description):
