Course objective

Understanding the basic mechanisms of the functioning of the financial system in the national economy and its impact on financial decisions taken by individual business entities. Developing students' skills in solving problems arising in the selection of the source of financing.

Course-related learning outcomes

Knowledge:

The student defines the essence of finance and describes its functions, classification of financial phenomena, and financial entities in the economy [P6S_WG_03].

The student describes the history of money, the mechanism of money creation, and the difference between cash and non-cash money [P6S_WG_04].

The student names and describes factors influencing financial decisions of various entities such as households, businesses, banks, and financial institutions [P6S_WG_05].

Skills:

The student interprets social phenomena related to finance, such as monetary policy, fiscal policy, and the tax system [P6S_UW_06].

The student analyzes the causes and course of financial processes, such as budget deficit, public debt, and money creation [P6S_UW_07].

Social competences:

The student identifies the need and utilizes opportunities for continuous education in the field of finance [P6S_UU_01].

The student recognizes cause-and-effect relationships in achieving financial goals and prioritizes the importance of different financial tasks [P6S_KK_02].

The student contributes substantively to the preparation of social projects, considering legal, economic, and organizational aspects in the field of finance [P6S_KO_01].

Methods for verifying learning outcomes and assessment criteria

Learning outcomes presented above are verified as follows:

LECTURE: formative assessments: activity in discussions summarizing individual lectures giving the student the opportunity to assess the understanding of the problem; summative assessment: written exam (e.g. in the form of Moodle test or traditional).

TUTORIALS: Formative assessment: current activity during classes and participation in the discussion; tickets with 10 questions; written assignments based on given books, articles or movies; preparing a financial report on a given topic and delivering it during classes; case-study tasks; colloquium consisting of 26 questions including a minimum of three tasks to calculate). Summative assessment: arithmetic average of formative grades with rounding conditions given and placed on the MODDLE platform - it is not possible to get a pass without writing a colloquium for a positive grade (min. 55% of points)
