Methods for verifying learning outcomes and assessment criteria

Learning outcomes presented above are verified as follows:

Lecture: Knowledge verified on the basis of the lecture material and resources for individual learning made available to participants. Credit-based on a periodical test and a final test, consisting of 10-15 single-choice closed questions. For each correctly given answer to the question you can get 1 point. The value of the periodic test is the ratio of 30% of the final grade, assuming that all the questions posed in the periodic test are correctly answered. Failure to approach the periodical test is tantamount to getting 0% of correct answers. The value of the final test is 70% of the final grade. The periodic and final test is not only scored.

Tutorials: The final grade is the result of the periodic test of 30% and the final test of 70%, depending on the number of points obtained in each of these tests.

The scale of the final grade, including the value of the periodic test and the value of the final exam, is as follows: 95% - 100% = 5.0, 81% - 94% = 4.5, 71% - 80% = 4.0, 61% - 70% = 3.5, 51% - 60% = 3.0, 50% > 0% = 2.0.
