

COURSE DESCRIPTION CARD - SYLLABUS

Course name

Foundations of wireless communications [S1EiT1>PRADIOK]

Course

Field of study

Electronics and Telecommunications

Year/Semester

3/5

Area of study (specialization)

Profile of study

general academic

Level of study

first-cycle

Course offered in

Polish

Form of study

full-time

Requirements

Course-related learning outcomes

Knowledge:

1. Has a structured, mathematically based, detailed knowledge of the propagation of electromagnetic waves in various environments and modeling of radio channels
2. Has a structured, mathematically based knowledge of the basics of radio communication, has a basic knowledge of the architecture and operation of next-generation mobile networks
3. Has basic knowledge in the field of construction and operation of radio communication systems and devices included in radio networks.

Skills:

1. Can solve typical tasks related to the design of a radio link, its energy budget and the propagation of

electromagnetic waves

2. Can compare the systems and standards of radio transmission and choose the appropriate method of transmission or wireless standard in specific conditions transmission lines and with a certain mobility of users

Social competence:

1. Is aware of the basic challenges faced by modern radio communication and the need for a professional approach to solving technical problems and subtracting responsibility for the technical solutions they propose
2. Is aware of the potential dangers to society in case of inappropriate use of radio technologies
3. Is aware of the rapid development of radiocommunication systems and networks and the need for constant updating your knowledge.
